Rotate 0

This page tests rotation. The words are written in unrotated page space and the page dictionary asks the viewer to turn the page for display. A highlight saved here must land on the same words however the page is turned.

Second paragraph on the rotated page. The quiet water held the evening light a little longer than the sky did, as if it were reluctant to give it back.

This page tests rotation. The words are written in unrotated page space and the page dictionary asks the viewer to turn the page for display. A highlight saved here must land on the same words however the page is turned.

Second paragraph on the rotated page. The quiet water held the evening light a little longer than the sky did, as if it were reluctant to give it back.

This page tests rotation. The words are written in unrotated page space and the page dictionary asks the viewer to turn the page for display. A highlight saved here must land on the same words however the page is turned.

Second paragraph on the rotated page. The quiet water held the evening light a little longer than the sky did, as if it were reluctant to give it back.

This page tests rotation. The words are written in unrotated page space and the page dictionary asks the viewer to turn the page for display. A highlight saved here must land on the same words however the page is turned.

Second paragraph on the rotated page. The quiet water held the evening light a little longer than the sky did, as if it were reluctant to give it back.

Rotate 90 inherited from the page tree

This page tests rotation. The words are written in unrotated page space and the page dictionary asks the viewer to turn the page for display. A highlight saved here must land on the same words however the page is turned.

Second paragraph on the rotated page. The quiet water held the evening light a little longer than the sky did, as if it were reluctant to give it back.

This page tests rotation. The words are written in unrotated page space and the page dictionary asks the viewer to turn the page for display. A highlight saved here must land on the same words however the page is turned.

Second paragraph on the rotated page. The quiet water held the evening light a little longer than the sky did, as if it were reluctant to give it back.